Why you should use User Login

As you use the BenQ Board in your classroom for your daily classes, it is important that your user data on your smartboard is securely backed up and kept in a safe place. Several teachers have had to lose all data when the BenQ Board had to be factory-reset for troubleshooting, or replaced with a new one in case of hardware failure.

Without user login, the BenQ Board doesn't allow direct access to your own files. You can't back up your data or delete old files to free up more storage space, unless you are signed in as a user.

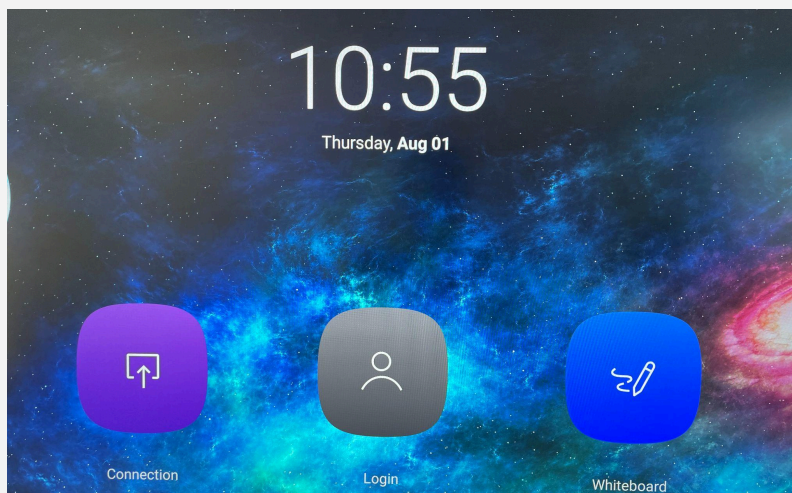

Your local data saved without user login is accessible to anyone in your room. Remember that your classrooms are used for the Summer Program and other activities during school breaks, and your local data may be easily viewed by anyone.

Benefits of User Login on BenQ Board

When you log in on your BenQ Board, your user data is securely stored in your user folder in the local storage. This data can be saved in your Google Drive for safe storage and to free up the local space. If you prefer not to link your Google Drive, you can back up your data manually using a USB flash drive.
